

ITINERANT RESTAURANT PERMITS

Itinerant Restaurant Permits serve to control the sale of food to the public by food vendors that do not have a City of Reading Health Permit.

General requirements:

- Application for an Itinerant Restaurant permit must be made with the Codes office
- Applicants must present evidence of inspection by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture or Municipality in which the business is located or operating.
- A business Privilege License must be acquired from the Office of Tax Administration.

An entity offering food service at the event must observe all requirements of the Pennsylvania Food Code.

A separate Itinerant Restaurant Permit is required for each and every event at which food service is offered.

An inspection by the Health Officer or his delegate of the operation of food service may take place at the event. If the operation does not meet the standards set forth by the
